Legislative Update for the week ending 02/22/2019

Overview

This past week advanced a couple of bills we are tracking in your MPOAC Legislative Newsletter. A couple to note, the Distracted Driving Bill passed out of its first committee in the Senate. The House version has not yet been scheduled for its first committee hearing and that is a little concerning. There is plenty of session to go, but we do need the House version to begin moving. Florida is one of four states that does not have a primary ban on texting while driving. The bill on street racing, SB 116 named Motor Vehicle Racing passed its first committee as well this week. Since Florida is committed to traffic safety the drag racing bill is something that will hopefully help make our roadways a safer place.

As the session is unfolding, some non-transportation issues are beginning to take on importance, headlines and the time of our legislators. This can be good at times and not so good in other regards. We have bills and issues we want advanced and these other non-transportation issues distract our members of the legislature from advancing our priorities. On the other hand, if legislators are looking for something to introduce we could find ourselves on the wrong end of a proposed bill. It is a double-edged sword.

While the legislature is not meeting next, they will begin their official session on March 5th. During this next week and during session, issues and questions that may occupy the minds of our legislators would be: should medical marijuana include a smokeable version, how to implement and define completion of a sentence which allows voting rights for ex-felons and how to deal with a couple of insurance issues including assignment of benefits reform. We will see where these topics go and how much attention they gather. In the meantime, please watch the bills which we have listed here in the newsletter. There are a couple of bills (OK, more than just a couple) which affect local units of government. I know these are of interest to the reading audience of this newsletter and if something really shocking comes up I will share the news with you here. Our partner organizations such as Florida League of Cities and Florida Association of Counties are tracking these “other” bills and we meet regularly to compare notes.

The Senate and the House are not meeting next week

A few more bills have been filed and certainly many more will be filed over the coming months. New bills are shown in RED in the last section of the newsletter. Your MPOAC Legislative Update will keep you apprised of newly filed bills and amendments.

Grab a cup of coffee and enjoy this edition of the MPOAC Legislative Update.
